PRESS RELEASE – January 2008

FDI Logbox announces a new trade receivables financing solution specifically adapted to the fashion market

FDI Logbox, leader in the management of trade receivables for the fashion industry, extends its range of services with a financing solution, in partnership with GE Commercial Finance, one of the European leaders in factoring.

The fashion market has changed a lot in recent years. Some aspects such as the increase in the number of collections and a reduction of production cycles, require more cash flow facilities for fashion companies. FDI Logbox responds to those needs by offering a solution which combines receivables financing with the local management of accounts receivable for all the European countries and the US.

This new service called Logbox Finance is designed for companies wishing to strengthen and optimize their cash flow, to outsource the management of their customer accounts, and finance their receivables, while maintaining control of their client relationships. Client creditworthiness, bad debt protection, debt collection are included in the Logbox Finance solution, and also receivables financing with a factoring solution.

Dominique Chatelin, President and CEO of FDI Logbox, states: “We constantly aim to meet our clients' requirements, so we decided to establish a financing service, directly covering the European market and the US thanks to the network of FDI Logbox subsidiaries which work daily with 28,000 fashion shops in Europe and the US. Our clients benefit from an integrated solution (combined into a whole) which is locally performed”.

Logbox Finance provides the opportunity to deal with only one organisation to fund invoices and manage closely domestic and export accounts.
